

COMMUNITY LIFE GARDEN INTERNSHIP PROJECT

The Community Life Garden Board of Directors is seeking interns to assist with the creation of a community garden. Our focus is to serve the California Central Valley communities of Dinuba, Reedley and Orange Cove. The garden property is centrally located within five miles of these three towns.

The primary focus of this internship project will be to:

- Create a marketing impact on the target communities that increases the awareness of and an interest in community gardening.
- The internship hours will vary per week, depending on assignments.
- Interns will be encouraged to work independently and work around their class and work schedule.

Interns will have a variety of opportunities to assist and learn. This includes:

- Help develop and organize volunteer teams to assist with garden building events
- Help develop and implement outreach and marketing strategies
- Implement business and neighborhood canvassing events,
- Assist in the planning and construction of the garden, and
- Help design new strategies to increase members and supporters.

Interns will learn to coordinate and schedule meetings, assist in facilitating meetings, workshops and events, use Microsoft Office applications to create marketing materials, conducting research and data analysis, letter writing, and develop business and community relationships and networking opportunities.
